

Driven to Love You

Don Henry / Lisa Silver

I have never blinked, trusted my instincts
Followed every childhood dream
Driven to love you, I was driven to love you
I'm driven to love you, and I'm giving you all of my love

I saw you in my mind before our paths entwined
Traveled every hour and mile
Driven to love you, I was driven to love you
I'm driven to love you, and I'm giving you all of my love

Navigating through the great unknown
Destiny wouldn't let me rest
Now I'm living here within the love you bring Unquestioning

Across the universe through obstacles adverse
I journeyed through my learning years
Driven to love you, I was driven to love you
I'm driven to love you, and I'm giving you all of my love
