

Love Makes You Reckless

Don Henry / Molly Henry

What was I thinkin' when I left the fold
A head so hollow, a heart so whole
Love makes you reckless chasing the fountain of youth
Make out your checklist and go searchin' for the truth

What was I thinkin' when those voices called
I gave up that safety net for a freefall
Love makes you reckless chasing the fountain of youth
It's not for the pessimist to go searchin' for the truth

Love makes you stupid, love makes you smart
And that wild-eyed cupid
Is just an usher with a flashlight in the dark

What was I thinkin' when I saw you
I could've done the walk-on-by but I walked right through
Love makes you reckless chasing the fountain of youth
You're on my guest list to go searchin' for the truth

What was I thinkin' when we made him
Pulled off that raincoat baby and jumped right in
Love makes you reckless chasing the fountain of youth
The little boy is restless to go searchin' for the truth

Love makes you reckless chasing the fountain of youth
Make out your checklist then go searchin' for the truth
